Scope of this edition

The public sources were reviewed on October 6, 2026. No site inspection, customer interview, payroll verification, acquisition instrument or franchise contract forms part of this edition. Ownership and franchising describe different rights; the relevant entity and transaction records would be needed to reconcile them.

The article’s financial passages explain service-business economics. The file contains no personal financial statements or tracing of income distributions. A retrieval gap is not treated as evidence that a business did not exist.
